A Report on the Elocution Competition on "Beti Bachao-Beti Padhao"

On 14th Oct. 2017, the department of NSS organized the elocution competition to make awareness among students about the issues like gender disparity and the need to save girl children.

10 NSS volunteers took participation in the program. All of them expressed the sorrow on the decreasing numbers of girls in sex ratio. The NSS volunteer Nisha Tayade said that that was shame for the Indian society where the women were worshipped as goddesses. She referred Dr. Babasaheb Ambedkar and said that Dr. Ambedkar measured the development of nation on the development of the women. Though we had completed seventy years of Independence, the situation of women in the nation was still a matter of regret. Naresh Patil told that if we would kill female fetus in the womb we would not have a womb to take the generation further. We did not kill a daughter but a mother. Vikram Jadhav said that Shivaji could not take birth without Jijau. So it's important to let women flourish in the society.

The program was organized by Dr. P. A. Waghmare. The program was anchored by Praful Medhe. The vote of thanks were proposed by Prof. Ajit Kulkarni.
